

The Traditions at Beaver Creek is designed in the Craftsman style. The project is located on a sloping site that allows for a three story building to appear as a one story building from the main entry. Two story buildings with hip roof and extended overhanging eaves are distinctive elements of the Craftsman style. Reinforcing the elements of this style is the stone base and lap and shake style siding cladding of the building. The campus includes assisted living, memory care as well as independent garden home living.
